

The Zodiac Warriors

Matthew was on his way to get some chinese food in Chinatown, Blackpool. The owner of the chinese restaurant let Matthew in to get some food. "Come in the back and pick what you want," said the owner. "I'm a bit busy, but help yourself."

"Sure!" said Matthew.

"It is in the freezer!" whispered the Chinese restaurant owner.

"Ok I'll just be here." said Matthew.

But the owner was up to no good. He used magic to create a portal instead, to a land no one had seen before.

"Go on in," said the Chinese restaurant owner. When Matthew stumbled through the freezer door he was trapped in the world of 'The Twelve.'

As he walked closer and closer he saw a tiger, an ox, a dragon and a monkey. Matthew made it out of the corridor and he looked up, and right before his eyes the four animals transformed into people and the ox limped up to Matthew and said "what you were looking at?"

"Who are you?" shouted Matthew.

"Relax, I'm Ox, he is tiger, she is dragon and she is monkey," said ox calmly.

"We are the last zodiac warriors left in the world and you must be the new guardian," said tiger.

"Guardian of what?" Matthew said.

"How do you not know of the lunar new year animals, you are the guardian of our statues Matthew!" said monkey.

"What are you talking about? I only came for a meal!" Matthew declared. "What is that all about?"

"An evil in the world made the massacre of the zodiac animals. Pig, goat, horse and snake were killed the last time, she got in the temple of the twelve which is right here!" said ox "You need to protect us!"

"Me?" exclaimed Matthew. "How can I do that?"

"You need to stay here and protect our statues so we can not die."

But Lue the evil villain was on her way to the temple as they spoke, to destroy the animals.

The closer she got, Tiger could smell. "It's Lue, shes here, get ready to fight!" shouted tiger.

As the battle commenced Monkey was obliterated. Matthew was failing.He fell to the ground.

"Matthew, Matthew I don't think he is awake." gasped Ox.
"Matthew!"

Back in the real world, Matthew regained his thoughts and opened his eyes and saw he was just daydreaming. His tummy rumbled as he hadn't eaten anything all day.
